A major trend this year was the control of communicable diseases. In the fall of 1976 former President Ford issued a nationwide inoculation plan against Swine Flu. Also, a rise in the number of cases of measles lead to an inoculation plan to be adopted in many areas.

Inoculation for measles was held in the Edon Schools on February 17, 1977. Ninety-five students in grades 4 through 12 received the inoculation. Lori Wagner, pictured on the right, received an inoculation from County Nurse Barb Wixom.

Inoculation for Swine Flu was held at Edon High School for Edon residents on October 20, 1976. Curtis Lump, pictured on the extreme right, received his Swine Flu shot from County Nurse Mrs. Thelma Clark.

The community of Edon underwent several structural changes this year. The Edon Railroad Station Old Doll, pictured above and on the preceding pages, was given a new look. The Williams County Historical Society and the people of Edon moved the building to a new foundation southwest of its former location. Plans are to preserve the Depot for posterity. While the Depot was changing the south side of Edon, the North side of town received a new Bridge on Route 49. While under construction, the bridge rerouted traffic including school buses for many months.

The Edon Bicentennial Celebration was held August 19 through 22, 1976. Among the many festivities were the crowning of the Queen, the beard judging contest, bicycle races, a chicken bar-be-que, the Bicentennial Parade, Square Dance in the street, a Pot Luck Dinner, and the Community Choir Concert. Pictured on the left is the float entry by St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Edon, in the Bicentennial Parade.

Winter affected everyone this year. The National Weather Service reported it was the coldest January in 177 years for the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The severe weather and resulting energy shortages led the Edon School Board to adopt certain energy practices. The Edon Schools operated on fuel oil, delivery pictured above, and no cutback was experienced. However, a policy of conservation was practiced. Classrooms were kept at 68 degrees and the number of after school activities were decreased. Responding to a survey taken by the Key of E Staff, 61.5% of E.H.S. students believed there was no energy shortage, and only 28.4% practiced conservation by lowering home thermostats.

On Friday, September 24, 1976, Leanne Field, the new athletic field, was dedicated at the first home football game. Pictured on the left, Mr. Adams, school superintendent, presents the deed to Mr. Allomong, President of the Board of Education. Entertainment was provided by the Community Choir, pictured behind Mr. Adams and Mr. Allomong, and the Edon High School Band.

The Presidential Elections in the fall of 1976 brought change to the government of the United States. After eight years of Republican rule, Jimmy Carter, a Democrat and former Governor of Georgia, became the 39th President and the first man from the ''deep south'' to become President since Zachary Taylor in 1849. Carter defeated Former President Ford with a slim 51 to 48 percent popular-vote majority. However, in a poll taken on Election Day at Edon High School, Former President Ford defeated President Carter with a wide majority. President-Elect Carter and Vice-President-Elect Walter Mondale are pictured on the right and on the opposing page at the top.

The country of China suffered major political changes this year with the death of Mao Se Tung. Mao had been the leader of the Republic of China since 1949. He died in Peking on September 9 at the age of 83.

One of the most spectacular events celebrating the Bicentennial was Operation Sail. 16 tall ships, 225 sailing vessels and 52 military ships from 28 nations paraded in the waters off New York City and other eastern Ports in July 1976. This event is pictured below on the left when the ships visited Newport, Rhode Island. (Photo L. Pendleton)

The Junior Class selected the theme "Feelings" for the 1976 Homecoming. Cheerleaders then began to build on this theme by rallying the student body and the team during spirit week. The five days before the game were as follows: Monday-Blue and White Day, Tuesday-Farmer Day, Wednesday-hair-do-day, Thursday- hat and tenny day, and Friday-Dress-up Day.

The students chose Lisa Mohre to represent Edon High School as the 1976 Homecoming Queen. Each class chose an attendant for the Queen's court. The freshman attendant was Dee Thiel, sophomore was Tricia Price, Junior was Anne Eich, and Senior attendant was Deb Manges.

FEELINGS . . .

Classes and organizations showed their talent and creative ability in the floats that they put together for the annual Homecoming Parade. First prize in the float judging contest went to the sophomore class, whose advisor was Mr. Caris. Second prize was awarded to the Freshman class, advisor was Mr. Jerdonek, and third prize went to the FHA, with advisor is Mrs. Richer. Judges for the floats were Mrs. Hall, art instructor, Rev. Heinlein, Rev. Rackliff, and Rev. Stutler. Prizes provided were from the area merchants.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR PLAY A SCREAM!

The Junior and Senior class presented a comedy-mystery this year entitled "A Midsummer Night's Scream." The production was directed by Mrs. Barb Fogel and the student director was Doug Purdon.

The cast involved seven female speaking parts and six male actors. Inky Sue, a black cockapoo, also had an important role in the play cast.

The play was about a group of teenagers who were trying to raise money for a community youth center. Along the way they meet up with a grumpy old millionaire (Craig Buell) and a mysterious theatre ghost (Eddie Prince). All turns out well, when the group puts on their hysterical version of Shakespere's "A Midsummer Night's Scream," which raises the needed money.

The play was only presented on November 12 this year with the profit being divided between the two classes.

Assistants pictured helping the trampolinist in this assembly are Bruce Siders, Deb Strup, and Lyle Curry.

ASSEMBLIES

There were a total of six assemblies this year. In the Fall the cast and crew presented a preview of this year's Jr. and Sr. play, A Midsummer Night's Scream. This gave the cast and crew a chance to experience an audience before the actual presentation that evening. Student Council presented the Thanksgiving Assembly on Nov. 24. Mrs. Fogel's Drama and Theater Class penned and presented a skit entitled The First Thanksgiving. A turkey and several cakes were given away and Mr. Adams gave the Thanksgiving message. The turkey was donated by Burkhardt IGA, and the cakes were furnished by Student Council members. On January 4, a trampolinist entertained the students. Several students were chosen as spotters and also helped demonstrate bouncing on the trampoline. In March, Klaus Siebert, spoke about Americanism. Also in March, the Musical cast and crew presented a preview of The Sound of Music. Scene changes were a problem, but the scenes themselves were nicely done. On April 27, the Stryker High School Band and Chorus presented the songs they were going to sing and play at contest for the Edon Student Body. Awards Day, May 18, was suspenseful for many students. Awards kept secret all year, were presented to many students for outstanding achievements.

SPRING MUSICAL

This year's musical production, chosen by Mr. Gallehue and Mrs. Peugeot, was Rodgers and Hammersteins' THE SOUND OF MUSIC. The directors decided to move the musical up about a month to April 1 and 2 so as not to interfere too much with spring sports. Tryouts for the all-school musical were held at the end of February which then made it possible for the main cast to practice for about six weeks and the other parts for three weeks.

Mrs. Hall's advanced art class created all the necessary props for the musical. Janet Doty and Angie Lutz painted the main scene, an Alpine Valley, on a newly purchased backdrop. Mrs. Richer's Home Ec. classes helped make clothing for the various groups such as the nuns and Nazis. The Sisters from Blakeslee lent habits for the Mother Abbess and helped three nuns with speaking parts. Parents made the matching play clothes required for Captain Von Trapp's seven children. Elaine Wuebben accompanied the singing parts on the piano along with the pit band.

The musical was a huge success with the house being packed out both nights. Main parts in the 1977 musical were as follows: Maria Rainer (Mary Hoag) Captain Von Trapp (Dennis Curry), Liesl (Lisa Mohre), Friedrich (Doug Stayner), Louisa (Sandy Osmun), Kurt (Robert Seaman), Brigitta (Bobbi Jo Livensparger,) Marta (Kim Glendenning), Gretl (Jamie Brigle) the seven children of the captain. Max Detweiler (Craig Buell), Elsa Schraeder (Susan Siebenaler), Mother Abbess (Mary Jo Tingley), Sister Berthe (Marcella Robison), Sister Margaretta (Tammy Lovejoy), Sister Sophia (Susie Brigle), Franz (Mike Blue), the butler, and Frau Schmidt (Sandy Meyers) the housekeeper.

1977 JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

"Stairway To Heaven"

The Juniors worked very hard this year on the prom. They chose as their theme "Stairway to Heaven", a Led Zeppelin hit. The banquet, the first event of the evening, was held in the cafeteria and was delayed due to track members returning late from the Ottawa Hills track meet. Following the banquet, the dance began at 8:00 in the gym. Stars and gold and silver ornaments hung from the ceiling. Blinking Christmas lights gave the gym an aesthetic look. In the center stood a wishing well with running water decorated with flowers. In the entrance, a blacklight lit up strands of stars.

Roger Muehlfeld and Betty Chrisman sneak a kiss.

Max Smith, WHFD Archbold, was the masters of ceremonies.

Dinner guests at the prom enjoyed a delicious meal of tomato juice, fruit cocktail, sliced turkey, mashed potatoes, gravy, buttered corn, rolls and butter, and pie ala mode graciously served by assistive freshman and sophomores.

Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson also enjoy the prom.

Tom Headley, President of the Senior Class, thanks the Juniors.

Max Smith, WHFD Archbold, played music for the dancers. As a change this year, a professional photographer from Woodard studio took pictures of the couples. A background with a star-filled sky was furnished by the Juniors. A special place was designated for these pictures in the memory books. A movie, "The Class of '44", was shown after the dance in the cafeteria. At twelve, the Bryan Lanes were opened and stay open until six for those people who held out that long. It was a very nice prom and should long be remembered by all.

GRADUATION — 1977

On Sunday, May 29, 1977, fifty-one Edon Seniors marched into the Edon High School Gymnasium. After the processional, which was played by the Edon High School Band, the Invocation was given by Mr. Dennis Rackliff. The Rev. George Cole gave the Baccalaureate Sermon, "Minimum-Maximum." The Senior Ensemble, directed by Mr. James Gallehue, sang two songs, and awards were presented by Mr. Adams and Mr. Gotshall, High School Principal. Members of the Class of 1977 were introduced by Mr. Gotshall as Mr. Lamar Allomong, President of the Board of Education, presented them with their diplomas. The Benediction was given by Rev. Jack Stutler.

The Graduation Class of 1977 chose the colors light green and dark green as their class colors, and the carnation as their flower. As their motto, the Senior Class chose, "No goal is too big as we climb it with care and confidence."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society tapping and induction ceremonies were changed this year. In previous years these ceremonies had been held during school before the entire student body with parents also being invited. This year the tapping ceremony was held in Mr. Temple's room, the advisor, during activity period on April 13. The President, Jeff Rockey, made a short welcoming speech and then the secretary, Deb Manges, pinned keys on the new members which they were to wear with honor for one week. April 20 the induction ceremony was held at 8:00 in the evening and the parents were special guests along with the public being invited.

KEY OF E STAFF

The Key of E Staff was a small staff this year, but a very hard working one. Mary Hoag, Editor, and Co-Editor, Craig Buell, worked together motivating the staff to meet deadlines, and Elaine Wuebben, Business Manager, took care of all financial matters. Assistant Editor and photographer Ron Bunce, and underclassman on the staff, worked hard to learn the aspects of page layout and copy writing for next year. Norm Crist, Janet Doty, and Dave Thomas were contributing artists to the book. The Key of E advisor was Mrs. Hall.

The year began by selling advertising to finance the book. Staff members canvased area merchants and record sales were made. Book sales also hit an all time high as the staff used an ''Impress Yourself'' sales campaign. With every book sold an ''I'm Impressed'' iron on was given away. A patron space was sold for the first time for the people of the community to have their name placed in the yearbook as a patron. Staff members dressed as the clown Patron Patti or Pat to promote sales.

This year the staff worked together with many as a unifying force to get the book done on time. Elaine Wuebben handled all copy typing for the entire book and Ron Bunce took care of photography and darkroom supplies.

Bob Thiel, Mary Hoag, and Mrs. Hall assisted Ron Bunce in taking pictures. The staff expresses thanks to Mr. and Mrs. John Toner for the donation of darkroom equipment to the school as a darkroom could be set up and used by the staff.

Student Council members were elected in the fall by the student body. Linda Siebenaler and Al Thiel were chosen to represent the Freshman. Dave Blue and Lorri Godsey were elected to represent the Sophomores. The Juniors were represented by Gary Bowling, Gary Mohre, and Marcella Robison. Senior members were Brent Hug, Teresa Hug, Tom Peckinpaugh and Jackie Dean.

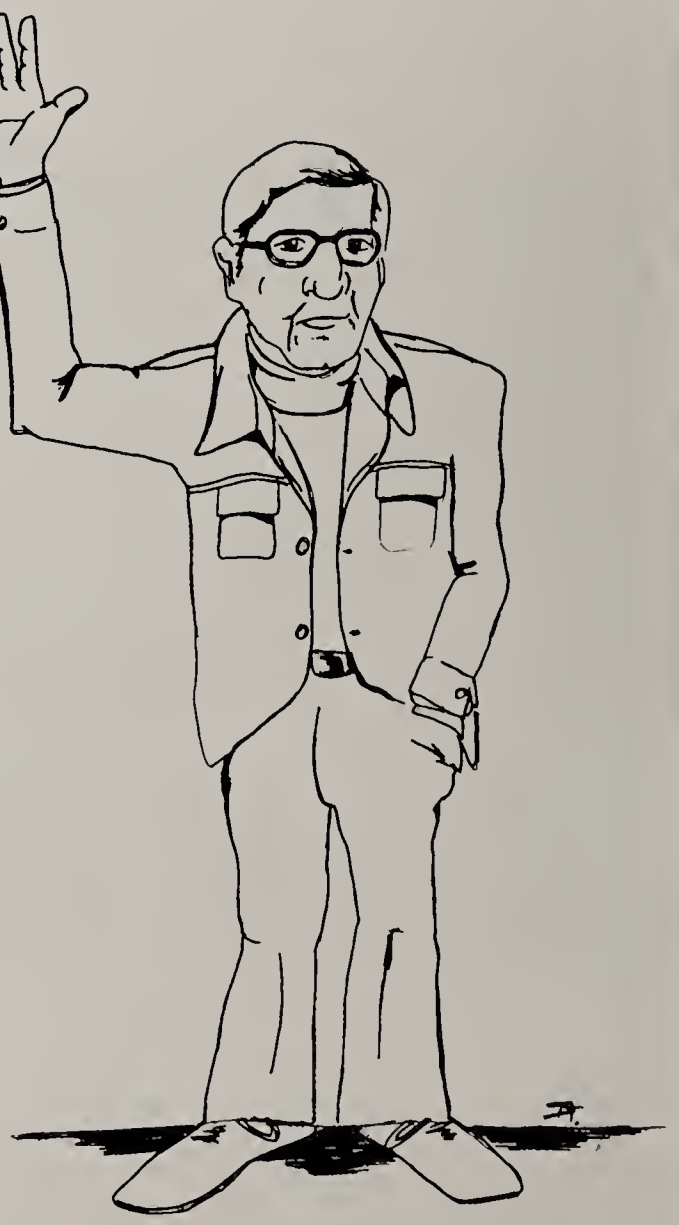

Officers chosen at the first meeting were: Brent Hug-President, Marcella Robison-Vice-Presidnt, Jackie Dean-Secretary, and Treasurer, and Teresa Hug-News Reporter.

On October 30, eight members of the Edon High School student council participated in a radio talk program ''Time Out For Teens'' on the Archbold radio station of WHFD. On this program students were able to talk about their particular school from their view point and announced coming events taking place at their school.

Also in the fall the student council sponsored a Student-Faculty volleyball game to raise money for the Sweetheart Dance to be held in February. Two games were played with the victories going to the students. Scores were 15-6 for the first game and 20-18 for the second. A 25 cent admission fee was charged to the student body to attend. A bake sale was also held in the fall to raise money. Due to bad weather, however, the dance was unable to be scheduled because canceled sports events took priority.

The student council sponsored two assemblies. The Thanksgiving assembly was held November 24 with entertainment provided by Mr. Fogel's Drama Class. A turkey and several cakes furnished by the student council were given away. The student council arranged a concert with the Stryker High School Band and Chorus in May. They presented their favorite songs they had performed with at State Contest in May.

The student council was advised by Mr. John Von Allmen.

The Spanish Club, advised for the eighth year now by Mrs. Posey, had a very successful year this year in several ways. They were able to learn many new Mexican and South American customs through guest speakers. Also, through a fall sales campaign, they were again able to send two members to Mexico for further study. The two members chosen for scholarship in Spanish character, club participation, overall scholarship, and maturity, were Trish Phillips, and Don Wuebben with Kerry Brigle selected as alternate.

The club began the year with a meeting for old members. Plans for an initiation ceremony were made and then carried out at the next meeting. The new members were required to wear a Spanish costume and after these were judged they were taken to the Temple farm for an initiation and hayride. Michelle Wertman and Mary Hoag, who had gone to Mexico the summer of '76, showed slides and talked of the life of the people in Cuernavaca and places they had seen. Later in the year, Sister Linda and Mr. and Mrs. Missler also brought slides and souvenirs to two of the meetings.

The very last meeting, only attended by those who had earned 100 points or more, was a banquet held at Trevino's in Defiance. New officers were elected at this meeting. The Spanish Club would like to recognize and thank Mrs. Posey for the willingness and the work she has done to make it possible for members to study in Mexico for five weeks this year.

To start off the year, the FHA girls had their annual informal initiation of new members, which was held at Harold Baker's Park in Edon. One week later, the impressive formal initiation was held in the cafeteria. Officers for the year were: Elaine Wuebben, President, Becky Lyons, Vice-President, Susie Brigle, Secretary, Sue Knapp, Treasurer, Tammy Coleman, Historian, Connie Dean, Parliamentarian, and Melissa Fry as Photographer.

Also early in the year, the chapter put up a booth at the fair and entered a float in the Homecoming Parade in which they placed third.

The girls had many money-making projects which included Trick-or-Treat for Children's Hospital, a quilt sales and donut sale to raise money for the annual banquet. Activity projects included singing at Hillside Nursing Home, and a Christmas party for preschoolers.

Dennis Curry was chosen FHA King and was recognized at Parent Night by Sue Knapp, FFA Queen. Elaine Wuebben and Becky Lyons received their State Homemaker Degrees, which is the highest award given by the association.

FFA

Officers for the Edon High School FFA this year were: Dennis Curry, President, Mark Trausch, Vice-president, Jim Wuebben, Secretary, Bob Kissinger, Treasurer, Jody Miller, Student Advisor, and Kevin Walz, Sentinel.

A paper drive was held throughout the year to raise funds for the annual banquet. Newspapers were gathered throughout the community and were sold to Anco Insulation in Montpelier. Another money making project was making and selling apple cider. Apples were gathered at various members homes and taken to Edgerton to get pressed. The cider was sold as a refreshment at several football games.

The Annual FFA Banquet was held March 15 in the high school cafeteria. Awards were presented and FFA Queen, Sue Knapp, was honored. The FHA girls served at the Banquet.

In the Spring, the FFA boys planted soybeans on 15 acres of land rented from Hershel Skiles. Toward the end of the school year, on Sunday, May 15, a picnic was held at Pokagon State Park with the FHA girls. Swimming, frisbeees, and good food was enjoyed by all.

FOOTBALL

A Frustrating Season

The 1976 Football season was a very frustrating season for the team and the coaching staff. One factor which added to this was the long list of injuries. There were several bright spots in the season, the biggest being the play of the underclassmen while upperclassmen were out of action. Another bright spot was the individual play of some of the boys. Al Lupien led the team in tackles with 50 assisted tackles and 17 unassisted finishing his football career at Edon in good form. Jerry Matthew's hard nose attitude kept the team moving and Brent Hug's threatening break away speed always brought hope. Gary Gearhart, a Sophomore running back, had the longest T.D. run of 98 yards in the victorious Homecoming game.

The golf team this year had a very disappointing season going only one for five overall.

Next year does look very promising though as the Bombers golf team only graduated one senior, Dave Thomas, off the team. One of the returning members will be Bill McNamee, this year's medalist. Bill, only a sophomore, will aid the golf team to victory for two more years.

Above, Curt Stantz, the challenger, concentrates heavily on his next move. Who knows---maybe it's going to be checkmate. Below: Sponsor, Dan Thiel congratulates second year champion Kerry Brigle.

CHESS

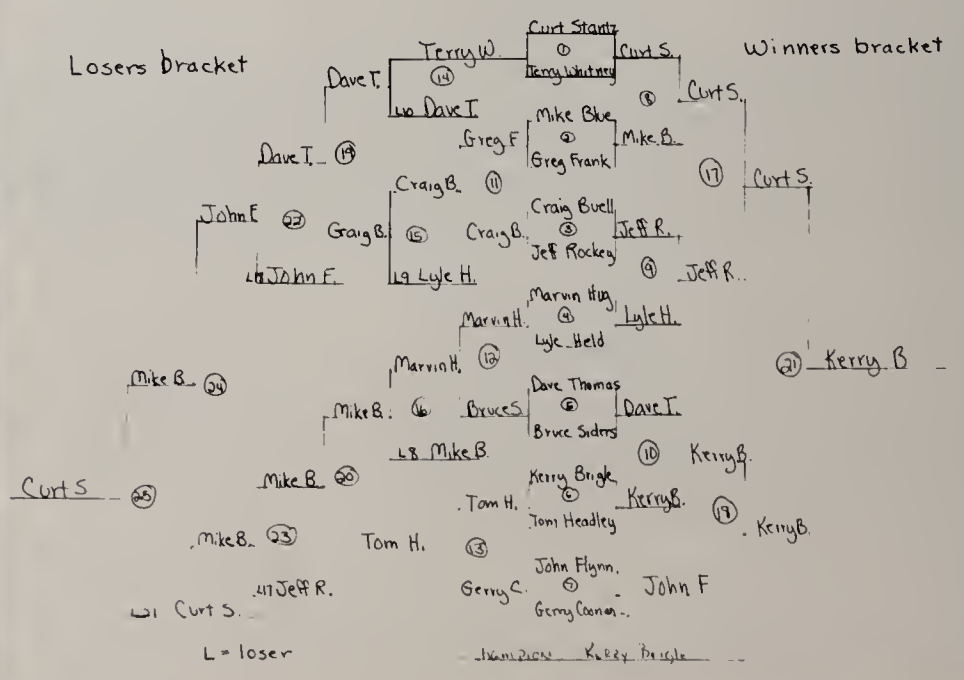

Checkmate

This year marks the third annual Edon High School Chess Tournament. This years tourney was held over the noon hour and played with the competitors chess sets. A new rule this year was that each participant competing must make one move over the course of the noon hour.

The tournament is a double elimination tournament meaning it takes two losers to be out.

Last years champion, Kerry Brigle, returned this year only to face a whole tournament full of tough competitors. When it came down to the end it was Curt Stantz (4-1) against Kerry Brigle (4-0). Curt in a do-or-die situation beat Kerry in the first match but lost the second one. This makes Kerry the first person to win the Tourney two years in a row.

CROSS COUNTRY

Makin' Tracks

Edons' Cross Country coarse is two miles of rugged terrain beset with natural obstacles. Some of our opponents found themselve meeting unparrelled encounters, which challenged the very essence of the word cross country. It is located at the Steffes and Manges gravel pit which is about five miles outside Edon.

Edon hosted the BBC League meet at it's course. The regular course had to be modified to accomodate the eight teams in the league.

The record time for this season was 13:02 run by Terry Whitney.

There were no seniors on the team this year, so as far as returning talent, it should be 100% for next year, and that's something for an up and coming sport to look forward to.

Rough Season

The Edon Blue Bombers Varsity Basketball squad finished a rough season on the hardwood courts with a 3-16 record. Some of the leading statistics were: Tom Peckinpaugh, with 44 blocked shots and 98 defensive rebounds, Gary Bowling collected 30 steals, had a field shooting percentage of .449, and he led the team in foul shooting, sinking 46/73 for a .630 average and Jim Peckinpaugh led the team with a grand total of

RESERVE BASKETBALL

JV's Recover From 0-6 To 8-10

The 1976-77 Edon Reserve Basketball team will be remembered as one of the most exciting teams Edon has had in recent years. The team showed constant improvement, as is indicated in the following statistics: Before Christmas the team compiled an 0-6 record, averaging 35 points per game and giving up 46. After Christmas, the team compiled an 8-4 record, which quite easily could have been 11-1, while scoring 45 points a game and permitting only 39.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

The team also finished as runner-up in a strong Williams County League, losing the championship on a heart breaking loss to Stryker after having led until the final 40 seconds of play.

The squad relied on the fast break and a fullcourt man-to-man press which forced opponents into many turnovers A reserve scoring record of 67 points was set against Camden and other impressive wins were over Montpelier, N. Central, Tinora, Fremont, and Antwerp, in which the team scored 27 points in one six-minute quarter.

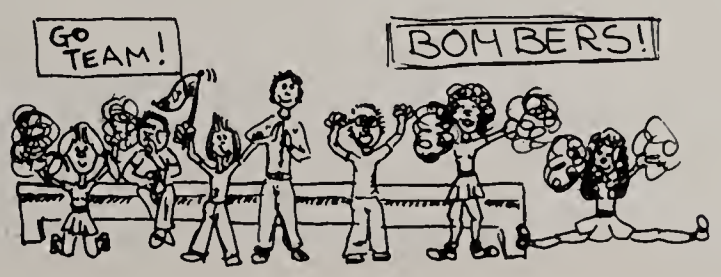

Commenting on the season, Coach Caris said, "Our steady improvement over the season is a tribute to these young men. They worked very hard and had excellent attitudes. At the start of the season, we were very green; but from Christmas on we were a very good basketball team. Everyone contributed to our success and I'm very proud of all of them."

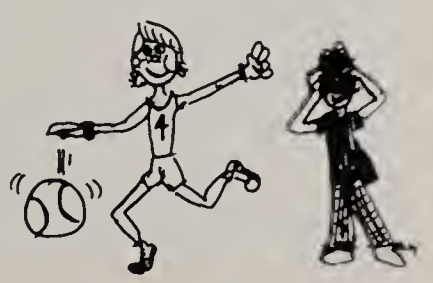

The Freshmen team showed considerable improvement despite the major injuries to players Joe Best and Greg Frank. The team also showed an efficient amount of talent to all spectators. They lost tough games but still shot fairly good from outside as well as under the basket. They played mostly a zone defense, usually a 1-2-2. The team advanced into the semi-finals of tourney by edging out Hilltop in OT, but were defeated by Pettisville in the following game. The season was fairly successful and Coach Peugeot feels proud of the accomplishments.

BOMBER BASEBALL

Sectional Champs

The Edon Bombers Baseball Team had a complete turn around in 1977 from 1976. The Bombers posted a 9-5 record while winning their Sectional Tournament.

The ball club was made up of all underclassmen with only one senior. The team was led in pitching by Junior, Curt Stantz, and Sophomore, Lyle Held, while the leading hitters were Junior, Gary Bowling and Sophomore, Jack Stantz.

The most important factor on the ball club was that it was an entire team effort by every individual on the team. Different players on the club came up with the big play or the big hit when it was needed to carry the team to victory.

The future looks bright for Edon Baseball with all the returning players for next year and the development of the reserve team that came on strong during the season.

BOYS TRACK

BBC Champs

The boys track team ended their season with a good 95-20 overall record. They qualified six persons to district. The six are: Brent Hug, 100 and shot and Al Lupien, shot and discus, Tom Peckinpaugh, high hurdles, low hurdles, and high jump, Dennis Curry, 40 and 220. They sent their mile relay team consisting of Dave Hug, Terry Whitney, Dennis Curry. The team also won the BBC league meet by a narrow margin of one point. Some names were omitted from the team due to the fact they did not finish the season.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Hoorah For Bombers!

During the summer, the cheerleaders sponsored a Slave Day to raise money for camp. They attended an OCC camp at Fendlay College in July.

To start the basketball season they sponsored the annual "Tip-Off" Dance along with the Freshmen and Reserve Cheerleaders.

The girls participated in two competitions this year. One at the Hicksville fair and the other at Hamilton High School sponsored by the Tri-State Cheerleaders, in which they placed third in Varsity deivison out of a total of 16 squads.

In the Spring, the annual cheerleading tryouts were held. This year, along with Reserve and Varsity cheerleaders being chosen, the Freshamn were also chosen. Advisors from Montpelier, Bryan, and Edgerton along with Ms. Lehman, served as judges for the tryouts.

RESERVE AND FRESHMEN CHEERLEADERS

Working To Build School Spirit

The freshmen cheerleaders were chosen in the fall with the results being: capt. Lisa Miller, Lori Wagner, Linda Siebenaler, Cristy Moomaw, and alternate, Kim Seegert. The gilrs sold cake tickets at the football and basketball games to help raise money to put on the annual "Tip-Off" Dance. The girls worked very hard to promote school spirit especially among the freshmen members.

The Reserve cheerleaders, along with the Varsity, helped with Homecoming festivities by sponsoring the annual Snake Dance & Bonfire. On Parent's Night, they helped the band perform a half-time show along with the Varsity and Freshmen cheerleaders. The girls attended camp at Bluffton College, and brought back excellent ribbons they had won. The girls participated in a competition sponsored by the Tri-State cheerleaders, and received a large trophy for placing second in their division.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Moving On To A Winning Season

Volleyball practice began on August 23, two weeks before school started with a new coach, Miss Lehman. Her theory was that the best team was a physically fit team, so for the first week, no one saw a volleyball, but everyone had lots of sore muscles for several days from excercising.

The first match was held the second day of school. The girls won this game, and ended their season with a 10-1 record for the regular season. At the end of the scheduled games, Edon was invited to participate in a tournament sponsored by North Central. The team, not working together, lost the last two games in this tournament, These losses, however, gave the girls incentive to play their very best in the Sectional and District. They claimed the district runner-up trophy after a hard fought battle with Montpelier and ended the season with a commendable 20-4 record. The team also took the league championship with a 5-0 record. Teresa Hug and Mary Ann Smith were voted to all league first team. Teresa was high scorer for the team and Mary Ann Smith set a record for the most points scored consecutively, 14 points, and the most points scored in a game, 21 points.

Sue Siebenaler was voted to all county second team and Mary Hoag was voted honorable mention by the league coaches. Most Valuable Player for the season was Sis Hug.

The Reserve team began practice along with the Varsity by excercising. All were required to learn the over hand serve, and to set the ball.

The girls worked very hard, but inexperience was against them. They won their very last game against Edgerton which gave them a 1-13 season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Up And Down Season

The 1977 girls basketball season was an up and down season. The girls learned many basketball techniques and advanced their knowledge of the game as a whole. The season started on a good note by a win over Prairie Heights, but, soon after, injuries took their toll.

One of the highlights of the season was Maryann Smith breaking the school record of 37 points. Maryann also received a special mention in the UPI All-Ohio girls basketball selection. Two of the Bombers made the BBC selections: Maryann Smith on 1st team, and Sis Hug, Honorable Mention. Also as far as team awards, Maryann Smith was chosen MVP and Kay Herman, MIP.

The most rewarding highlight of all was tournament, in which the team really put it all together. They won the 1st game in sectional by turning in a tremendous team effort, but lost the sectional finals to a fine Hilltop team.

The girls never gave up. They worked hard clear up until the end. With only three seniors leaving, the team next year looks brighter with several fine reserves moving up.

This year ten students were chosen by Mrs. Culbertson to work in the library. They were seniors Craig Buell, Jackie Dean, Mary Hoag, Karen Osborn, and Betty Chroninger, juniors: Linda Anspaugh, Michelle Wertman, Jerry Borton, and sophomores: Sarah Hill and Trish Phillips. The students sponsored a fall and spring book fair at Edon and Northwest. A Christmas party was held at Mrs. Culbertson's home and a pizza party at the end of the year. Special Additions to the library this year were paperback books, an A-V storage cabinet, an additional 16 mm film projector, and a listening Center.

The Literature of the Old Testament students listen to their guide, Mrs. Leah Turkow, during their visit to the B' mai Jacob Synagogue in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

ENGLISH 9: This English course was required by all freshmen. Both literature and grammer were studied, with an introduction to the use of the high school library. Mrs. Posey was the instructor.

ENGLISH 10: This English class was a general background course required by all sophomores. Sentence and paragraph structure were studied as well as American Literature. Short stories and theme writing were required on a more complex level. Mrs. Fogel was the instructor.

CREATIVE WRITING: Mrs. Posey, instructor, used two paperback texts and two workbooks to prepare the students to use words more effectively. The essay, the poem, the play and the short story were studied. Some students material was published locally. Students were encouraged to contribute to other publications and contests throughout the year.

DRAMA: Mrs. Fogel instructed the drama class. She lectured on many subjects relating to acting such as basic stage directions, acting techniques, and oral interpretations. Mrs. Fogel directed the Jr.-Sr. Play ''A Midsummer Night's Scream.''

ENGLISH LIT.: Teaching students to judge and evaluate what they need, Mrs. Posey, presented short stories, poems, plays, essays, biographies and a novel by several English authors.

RESEARCH PAPER: This course dealt with how to write a research paper. It emphasized the skills of searching for information, organizing facts and communicating ideas effectively.

Kerry Brigle disects a worm.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE: The freshman Physical Science class serves the purpose of preparing those students who choose to continue on in their junior and senior years in Physics and Chemistry.

BIOLOGY: Due to the lack of laboratory specimens this year, sophomore biology began with a book study of the animal classification system. In the spring, though, Theron Clymer became the chief supplier of live worms, tadpoles, and crayfish for the class. Mr. Temple also supplied a carpenter ant. Additional class activities included drawnig animal diagramatics and describing animal characteristics habitats, and ecology.

PHYSICS: A major change in this year's Junior Physics class was the concentration on theoretical rather than applied labs. The topics covered this year were force, motion, atomic theory, heat, wave motion, light, and electricity. Seven students took Physics, which was three less than the previous year.

CHEMISTRY: The first part of the Senior Chemistry class consisted of lecture and book study. This was followed by laboratory practice in chemical procedure and analysis. The highlight of the year was when each chemistry student received a bottle of twelve unknown substances of which they had to find ten by chemical analysis. Six students took Chemistry this year.

SENIOR MATH: The senior math students have one goal in mind. To prepare him or herself for college mathematics. The course teaches a wide wide variety of topics including trigonometry and pre-callculus math. This year a great amount of material was covered as compared to previous years. There were eleven seniors in the class this year.

Teacher Dan Thiel goes over a test.

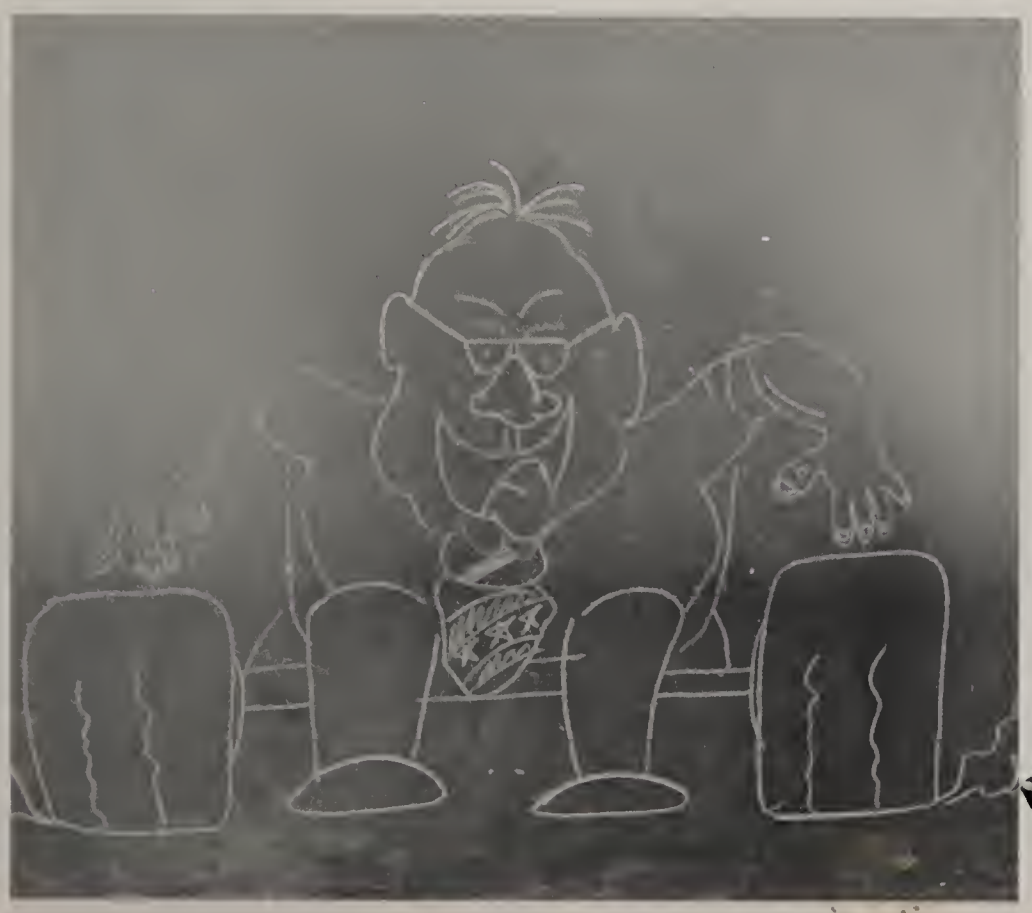

Math

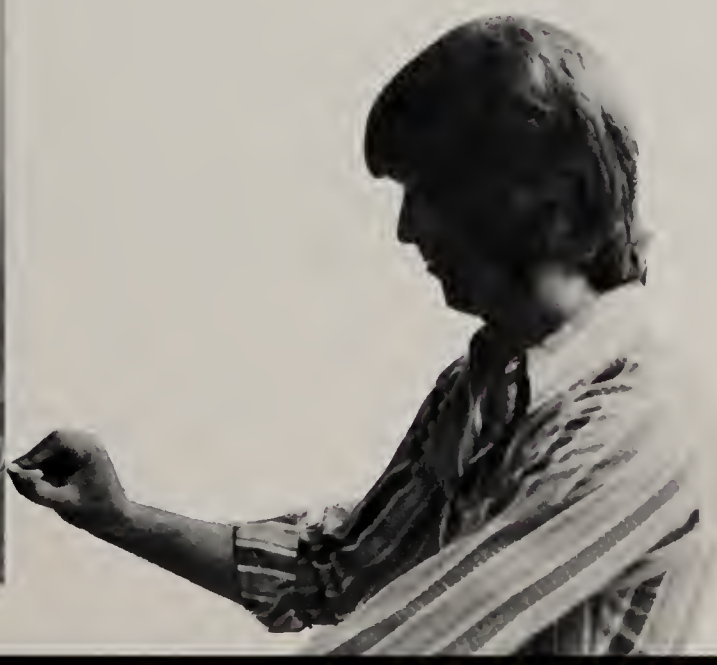

GENERAL MATH: This course is mainly for those not planning to further their education after high school. They covered, this year, adding, subtarcting, multiplying, dividing, and such mathematical skills as are basbasic to survival in today's society. There were 29 students.

ALGEBRA I: This year's Algebra I class was introduced to new textbooks. The books are similar to the old. They covered nearly all the basic topics in elementary Algebra, especially everyone's favorite, story problems, at the chalkboard.

GEOMETRY: This year's class was an excellent one covering more material than ever before. This includes formal proofs about points, lines, and planes. Due to the extra time, the chapter on construction with an unmarked straightedge and compass was covered. There were 17 boys and 15 girls involved in this class.

ALGEBRA II: The Juniors in Algebra II picked up where they left off in Algebra I. They worked at sharpening their Algebraic skills to that those who wish to, can proceed to Senior Math and other math related courses in college. Twenty students were part of the Junior Algebra class this year.

Mr. Blue

WORLD HISTORY: This sophomore class begins with the study of prehistoric man and his way of life up to the present time.

WORLD GEOGRAPHY: The sophomores in this class study the continents and the ocean and climates. This year they drew maps of European areas and worked in their workbooks.

AMERICAN HISTORY: This junior class studied the history of the U.S. from the pilgrims until the present day. It covered especially the wars that have been fought and the reasons for them.

SOCIOLOGY AND ECONOMICS: These senior semester courses studied the development society and man's use of resources, respectively. A term paper was due at the end of each course. The sociology paper had to be based on a survey taken by the student. Various results of these surveys have been incorporated into this yearbook as insight of our student body. All of the preceding classes were taught by Mr. Blue.

GOVERNMENT: This senior course required dealing with our government and how it works today. Also for a full six weeks the class learned to fill out tax forms. A field trip was taken to the court house and county jail in Bryan in May.

ART ONE: is a general introduction to Art. The course includes experience in drawing, printing, painting, design sculpture, art history and craft. The last six weeks was spent doing independent study. This year students earned the money to buy the clay they used. They designed, constructed, and sold Christmas decorations for this purpose. The students took a lot of pride in work made from their own clay.

ART II and III: include more independent studies in Art. Also on May 4, the Art II and III students toured the Toledo Museum of Art.

This year several Art competitions were entered. There were three winners in the HIgh School Art Competition at Defiance College sponsored by the women's Commission gallery. Janet Doty placed third in Ceramics among the Juniors with a chess set. Norm Crist won third place in Ceramics among sophomores with "Animan" (a half man-half goat)and Trish Price placed second in Printing. Al Lupien received the Senior Art award at Awards Day. Norm Crist also placed in the top 10 in the Consumer Education Cartoon Contest sponsored by the Four-County Joint Vocational School.

BUSINESS

GENERAL BUSINESS: The class spent time studying different types of insurance, stock markets, buying and selling. Guest speakers were: Dick Mesnerd, Gene McCrea, and Lyle Manges.

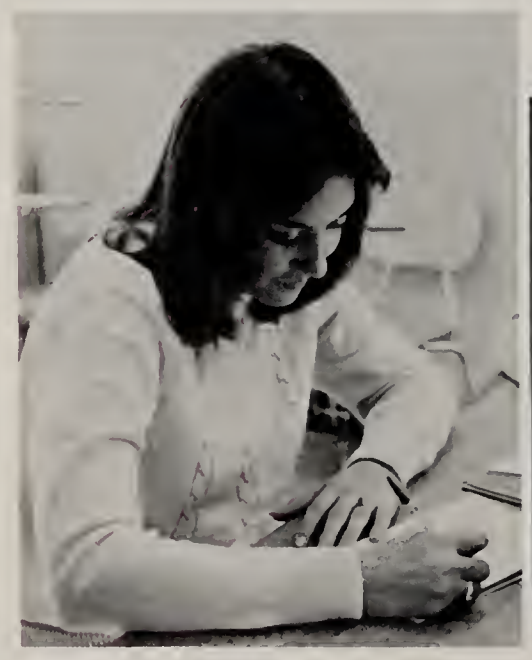

BOOKKEEPING: This all senior class learned how to keep accurate books for a bookkeeping business. They did a practice set in which they kept actual records for an imaginary business along with doing problems almost daily from a workbook.

TYPING I: There were two classes of Typing I this year. The skill of typing and how to care for a typewriter were learned during the first semester. At the end of the first semester a few of the students who only wanted to learn to type for personal use, perhaps at college, were permitted to enter other courses. Second semester, then, concentrated mainly on building speed.

SHORTHAND I: This class taught the strokes that are necessary for constructing words in shorthand. Some dictation was taken later in the year.

SHORTHAND II: This class consisted of six senior girls who were considering secretarial work as a career. They learned more about composing letters, punctuating, going to interviews and applying for jobs.

TYPING II: This class also consisted of six girls except this time there was one boy. They did a practice set in class, typed invitations for the alumni banquet, Edon Women's Club booklets, Edon Machine union papers, and also individual work for teachers. Guest speakers were: John Ackerman and Jan Voors from International Business College who spoke about how to fill out an application.

Ind Arts

The Industrial Arts classes of the past year followed the same general curriculum as the years in the past. The Ind. Arts I class began drafting in the first semester, in which they were introduced to the basic drafting tools and their function. In the second semester, they went to the shop and made various projects in wood working. The second year class in their first semester, continued in their wood working, increasing the skills they had acquired in the first year. In the second semester, they returned to drafting to learn additional techniques in this field. In the Ind. Arts III class, part of the year was devoted to metal working, where they constructed such items as a dustpan. They also got into electronics, where they worked with such items as motors, generators, anmeters, and calibrators. The Ind. Arts IV class worked on layout and construction. They worked on using the metal lathe to make tractor hitch pins. The class constructed such items as funnels and gear pullers.

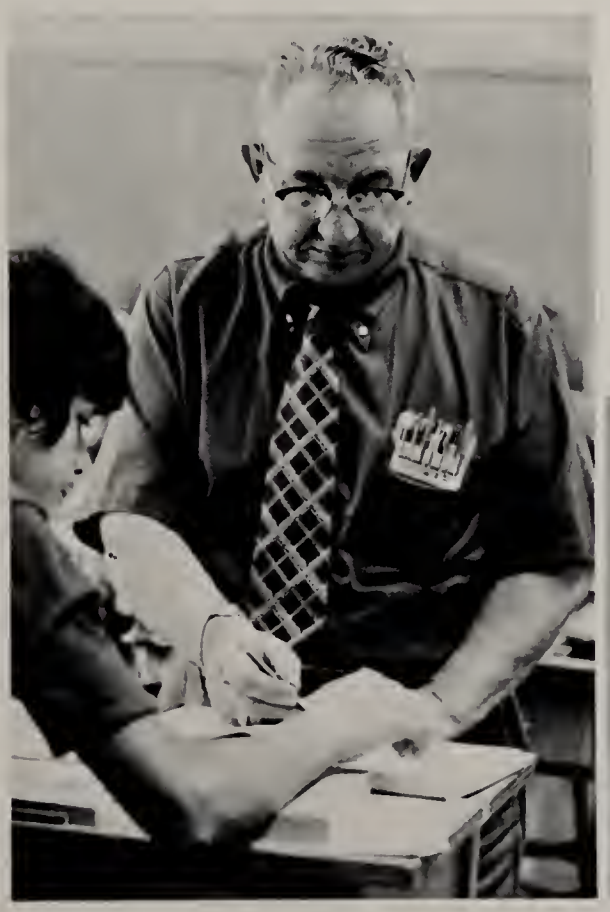

Being Mr. Senger's last year at Edon High, he said the favorite class of his for the past year was the Juniors.

VO. AG.

The major change was a new teacher for Vocational Agriculture, Mr. Steinman. He is from Kenton, Ohio and graduated from the Ohio State. He received a nickname "Doc" because of the white coat he wears when in the shop.

Another change was the number of field trips. First there was the Junior and Senior trip to the Farm Science Review at Ohio State University. All classes went to the Edon Co-op and Anderson grain elevator in Maumee touring the facilities. They also went one mile south of town for the four-wheel drive tractor day. Mark Trausch won the marketing contset & earned a steak dinner.

VO-AG I-II- are both two periods. For 12 weeks they worked on small gas engines. Each student furnished his own engine. They were also introduced to basic agriculture study such as soil, crops, and livestock. Vo-Ag II had the following speakers: Game Warden: Mel Weiss, Bill Siddler from N.W. Tech who talked on electrial motors, and Rich Gearhard, who talked about fertilization and electricity.

VO-AG III-IV- In this class they constructed a little red barn 8x12 for the first time, and one paper box for the FFA paper drive.

Mr. Steinman

Home Ec.

A new homemaking class was introduced this year: Bachelor Living. A semester course for Junior and Senior boys. This course introduces the student to the different areas of homemaking with emphasis upon nutrition and food preparation; clothing care, repair and construction of a simple garmet; consumer buying and home management.

9th Home Ec: The course introduces the student to the different areas of homemaking with emphasis upon personal and social development; personal nutrition; sharing responsibility for housekeeping tasks; and beginning sewing with emphasis on zipper application, facings and sleeves.

10th Home Ec: This course requires increasing skill, knowledge and experience in all around homemaking. Emphsized during the sophomore year are: selection and care of fabrics and garments; cooking from scratch, (pies, cakes, candies, bread), planning and preparing family dinners; needle work projects.

11th and 12th Home Ec: In this course students assume responsibility for choosing goals and work toward higher levels of skill and knowledge in the homemaking areas. 1. Foods for special occasions and foreign cooking. 2. Advanced clothing construction for oneself or others, and quilt making. 3. Child care with emphasis on parental care.

Drivers Ed.

The Driver's Education Course consisted of 60 Hours. Thirty-six hours were spent in the classroom studying the book SPORTSMAN LIKE DRIVING and eighteen hours were spent observing other students drive. Six hours of actual driving was required from each student. Movies were shown and students were required to give class presentations on subjects ranging from motorcycle safety to bicycle safety. During the course students experienced changing a tire and both parallel and angle parking. Much of the driving was done in the local area but on their last day of driving students went to a large city such as Fort Wayne to drive in city traffic.

Lyle Curry removes the spare tire from the trunk to learn the basics of changing a tire. Instructor, Mr. Peugeot, gives verbal instructions as students Mary Crist and Mel Lyons observe.

Miss Lehman

Freshman Girls and Boys Health- Nutrition, function of body organs, illnesses and disease, emotional adjustments, drugs, alcohol, and first aid were discussed by instructors Miss Lehman and Mr. Jerdonek.

Junior and Senior P.E. and Psysiology-In this class the different systems of the body and their relationship to everyday life was studied. The course was instructed by Miss Lehman and Mr. Jerdonek.

TOMORROW'S SUCCESSES DEPEND

FOUR COUNTY VOC

The vocational school, located near Archbold, Ohio, provides trades to be used in their future lives. The program at Four-County has four major divisions: Agriculture, Business and Office, Education, Trade and Industrial Education, and Home Economics.

There are ten seniors and ten Juniors attending Four-County this year. The seniors are: Jeff Alwood: Industrial Maintenance, DeWayne Colbart-Distributive Education, Jeanne Fry, Horticulture, Curtis Lump-Auto Body, Jeff Miller-Welding, Marie Musser-Health Occupations, Pat Orzechowski-Clerical Skills, Bob Steinke-Engine, Fred Thiel-Auto Body, and Terry Strohl-Cosmetology. The Juniors are: Deb Gambler-Horticulture, Jeff Goshorn-Carpentry, Kent Hayes-Electronics, Marc Joice-Auto Body, Cathy Kissinger-Horticulture, Jack Osborn-Industrial Maintenance, Cathy Runkle-Child Care, John Smith-Engines, Ted Thiel-Engines, and Dave Wehrle-Carpentry.

The school is a great place to meet new people, have fun and learn at the same time. Through the training at Four-County, working habits, technical knowledge and basic performance skills are developed. Then these qualified people are placed in their job area through the school placement office.

A requirement for Seniors is government and for Juniors, English and then the rest of their day is divided between related class or the book part of the learning process and the lab.

Students at Four-County are encouraged to participate in regional and national competitional fields of their own. Jeanne Fry, along with two other girls making up a team, took 18th place in state horticulture competition. Also Ted Thiel won 18th place in regional competition in a engine contest.

ON THE PLANS YOU MAKE TODAY

ALBUM

ADMINISTRATION

Kent Adams returned this year as Superintendent of the Edon Northwest Schools. This was his eighth year as Superintendent and his seventeenth year with the school system. Mr. Adams, originally from Van Wert County, received his BS Degree from Defiance College, MS Degree at Indiana University, and Education Degree at the University of Toledo.

One of the major changes this year was the passage of a five mill tax levy in June, 1976. This was due to the removal of the copper cables along county road K which was the taxable property of the American telephone and Telegraph Company.

Winter caused many bussing and heating problems. Edon schools were heated by oil instead of natural gas and was not forced to close due to a gas shortage. A total of twelve school days were missed, but because of the special legislation, the days were not required to be made up.

Chris Gotshall, after spending the preceding year as High School Supervisor at the Williams County office, returned as Principal at Edon High. Mr. Gotshall received his BA at Adrian College ar M. of Education at University of Toledo.

COOKS, CUSTODIANS, AND BUS DRIVERS

Head cook Donna Price and assistant Millie Luke made improvements this year on their already mouth watering meals. Donna planned to leave the EHS cafeteria at the end of this, her sixth year, while Millie planned to continue if a head cook could be found to replace Donna.

Janitors, Jr. Lloyd, Ron Schuller, Joe Smith, and Dayton Young were in charge of the maintenance of the Jr. High and the High School, and Max Skiles was in charge of the caring for the Cooney school. During The summer the janitors were busy sanding down the floor of the old gym, painting its walls, and putting in new lights. They said their biggest problems were the boilers breaking down and people (including teachers) borrowing tools and not returning them.

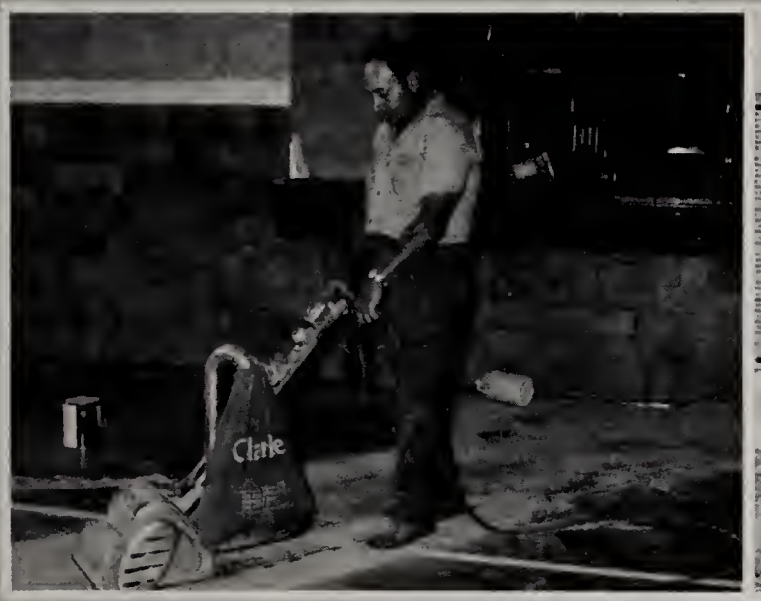

The bus drivers seemed to have problems with the buses breaking down during the year. The school bought one new bus at the beginning of the year and one used one at the end of the year. The snow and winter weather was a major problem for all bus drivers this year.

Cook Donna Price busily butters bread.

Cook, Millie Luke, prepares the daily meal.

Custodian, Jr. Lloyd, sands the old gym floor.

FACULTY

Three new teachers joined Edon High School faculty this year. They were: Marleen Lehman teaching P.E., Barbara Fogel teaching English, and John Steinman teaching Vo. Ag.

In a survey taken by the Key of E Staff it was found that there were several new items purchased for different departments. The English department acquired fifteen new dictionaries and a new bookcase, the Vo. Ag. room got a bulletin board, and the History rooms got new drapes and a chalk board. Mr. Thiel, when asked what was new in his room, remarked humorously, "Oh, about 60 freshman."

Several other questions were included the same survey. In response to the question, 'Are you happy in your job?' 100% replied positively. The question 'How was T.V. influenced education today?' 60% of the teachers thought it had an adverse effect and 40% thought it had a positive effect.

You think you know the teachers at Edon High School, but did you know . . that if Mr. Von Allmen could choose another profession, it would be professional golfing. That one of Mrs. Richer's hobbies is softball?

that 90% of the teachers enjoy getting up at sunrise or within a few hours thereafter? that Mr. Senger's second choice for a vocation would be the Air Force.

Congratulations Seniors From The Edon State Bank

The Senior Class started their money-making campaigns for the Senior trip in October by selling magazines. The class sold a total of $7943.89. Top salesmen were Fred Thiel-$914.96. Kyle Towers-$750.30, and Brent Hug-$485.73. Mr. Si Hanna, the magazine sponsor, treated the class to a party in February. Other projects included sweatshirt and candy sales, and an all-School sock hop.

Two field trips were taken during the school year. The first, career day at four-county joint school and the second consisted of a tur of the county jail and court house in Bryan. During our short stay at the jail, Al Lupien was fingerprinted and mug shots were taken of Mr. Jerdonek. While at the court house those who were eighteen registered to vote. The trip was very educational. Several new things were learned, including how to get stuck in an elevator!

There were 20 girls and 31 boys in this years senior class. The sociology class took a survey of a few of the senior class favorites. Art and Government were their favorite classes. Mr. Blue and Mrs. Hall were considered the most effective teachers while the teachers with the best personality were Mr. Thiel, Mr. Blue, and Mrs. Hall. Top ranking TV shows were Charlies Angels, and Starsky and Hutch.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class this year had 43 boys and 37 girls. Class officers and student council representatives were elected in September and were accepted. Gary Bowling, Gary Mohre, and Marcella Robison were chosen to the Student Council.

The Junior Homecoming committee decided on the theme "Feelings". Then they proceeded to get chairs, haywagons, and decorations for the Queen's float. Chairs were donated by Gerald Siebenaler and the wagon came from the Johnny Myers farm. Many Juniors donated their time and effort to get this completed.

A money making project was to sell nice looking programs at both the football and basketball games. The football programs with both teams lineups, and our teams picture were sponsored by area merchants.

The Jr. prom committee decided that the theme for the 1977 prom would be "Stairway to Heaven", and put plenty of work into developing that theme.

SOPHOMORES

This year the Sophomore Class participated in many activities. They won first prize for their Homecoming float with the theme "Feelings." On Oct. 7 and 8, they took the Ohio Survey test and in Sept. they ordered their Sophomore Class rings, and received them in March. Class advisor was Mr. Caris, who helped in class elections and decisions.

Mr. Blue's sociology class took a survey of the entire high school. In the results of the survey, the class's favorite T.V. shows were "Charlie's Angels", and "Happy Days." Most effective teachers were Mr. Thiel, and Mr. Blue. Most Sophomores preferred Art and Physical Education.

FRESHMEN

There were 42 boys and 36 girls in the freshman class making a total of 78. They began the year by choosing class officers and voting to pay dues. Along with their advisor Mr. Jerdonek, they worked together to create a float for the Homecoming that won second place in the float contest. They found in a survey taken by the sociology class that their favorite T.V. programs were "Mash" and "Charlie's Angels."

There was a four-way tie in the freshman vote for most effective teacher: between Mr. Thiel, Mr. Jerdonek, Mr. Temple, and Mrs. Posey, but Mr. Thiel got top vote for the teacher with the best personality.

Cindy Siebenaler adorns the Freshman float.

Top: Steve Blue, President, Middle, Lisa Schaffter, Treasurer, Pam Missler, Vice-President, and Sue Skiles, Secretary.

FACULTY

The Edon Middle School Faculty was made up of ten teachers. Mrs. Lesnet who had taught in the Middle School for seven years, moved to the Northwest building to teach fourth grade. With one less teacher and Mrs. Peugeot only teaching half a day, the remaining teachers overlapped their duties to cover for these changes.

The Junior High Science Department purchased a new 20 gallon aquarium and had many animals brought in by students. Richie, Mr. Johnson's Parrot was a frequent and much enjoyed visitor. Mr. Kaufman taught social studies, and put on several Historical plays for the student body.

The Elementary school faculty consited of eleven teachers. Two new teachers joined the staff this year and another returned after several years of absence. Martha Manett, teaching first grade, began her teaching career this year, and Eleanor Lesnet, who had previously taught fifth grade at the Middle School moved to the Northwest Building to teach fourth grade. Miss Sandy Bauer, joined the staff in October, as a Learning Disabilities Instructor. This was the first year for a Learning Disability Classroom Unit in the District.

The Northwest Building remained the same except for some minor painting jobs and the remodeling of a storage room for Miss Bauer's Learning Disabilities Class.

Seventh Grade

Seventh and eighth grade boys congratulate the faculty after their volleyball victory.

The D.J.'s for the seventh and eighth grade dance: Jody Spangler, Standing, Kim Kissinger, Ronnie Green, and Brad Ludwig Sitting, Teena Kissinger, Pam Henninger and Sue McNamee, Kneeling.

The Junior High School enjoyed many activities this year. In the fall, after the eighth grades elected class officers, card sales began. The profits from these sales went into the Junior High Athletic fund. This year the money was used to purchase basketball equipment and football uniforms. In November, they sold Fall Festival tickets along with the Elementary students. To boost sales, the faculty challenged the boys and girls to a volleyball game. In order to attend the game, students must have sold a minimum of tickets. The boys and the faculty played two very close games, although the faculty won. The faculty easily beat the gilrs.

A Christmas Party was planned for the last day of school before vacation. They enjoyed refreshments and the movie THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER. There was also a spring party with the movie SNOWBALL EXPRESS. The eighth graders enjoyed a class trip to Cedar Point. The seventh graders went to Pokagan Park.

DEDICATION

Mrs. Eleanor Lesnet has taught a total of 27 years. She began her teaching career in several one room schools throughout Bridgewater Township, after receiving a two year Diploma from Bowling Green State University. She taught at the Ainger School for three years and another three years at the North Bridgewater School. She also taught one year at the historical Hay-Jay School. In 1944, Miss Eleanor Briner became Mrs. George Lesnet and again changed schools. She taught one year at Scott School in Superior Township and settled down to the life as a homemaker. The next fourteen years were spent raising their four children. In 1958, Mrs. Lesnet returned to teaching taking a position at the Northwest School with the fifth grade. She taught at the Northwest Building until 1969. From the Fall of 1969 until the Spring of 1976, Mrs. Lesnet taught fifth grade at the New Edon Middle School. She then returned to the Northwest building in the Fall of 1976 to spend her last year with the fourth grades at Northwest.

The subject Mrs. Lesnet enjoyed teaching social studies. Many of her students remember enlarging each state of the United States to make a huge new map all their own. She also enjoyed teaching art being careful to stress that each student should express his or her self personally through their work. Because each student is different, Mrs. Lesnet felt each student must be treated in a special way. She was understanding and always found something to love about all her students.

For Mrs. Lesnet the most enjoyable part of being a teacher, was watching the social development of her students. To watch responsibility grow and to help students become more aware of themselves as a social being was her most important goal an an Educator.

Transition occurs throughout life. Each day, month, and year bring change to the lives of all people. This year has been like no other year at Edon High School, and no year in the future can ever be like this year was. Children grow from a Kindergarten registrant, Pictured Right, to high school graduates and registered voters. Pictured below, Left, Tim Rockey registers to vote, and Deb Manges and Becky Lyons, Below Right, leave the Edon High School Gym as '77 Graduates. Retirement is also a part of life. Mr. Senger and Mrs. Lesnet, Pictured At The Bottom Of The Page, retired from the Edon Schools this year. Each change in life brings a new challenge--A challenge to the Class of '77 and to our retiring teachers.
